Why attend this conference?

Leading Safeguarding returns in 2024 to ensure that your long-term strategy is sharpened, your resources allocated effectively, and that you are confident in your next steps as a safeguarding leader.

Alongside vital legal updates from veteran educational lawyer and returning chair Dai Durbridge, you'll have access to a wealth of expert practitioners and safeguarding leaders to glean best practice from, as they explore their successes and problems they've had to work through.

Your views and training needs have helped curate this programme of nine interactive workshops and topical keynotes, so you can have your pressing issues solved, your whole-school safeguarding culture developed, and your long-term strategy fine tuned. Leave feeling confident in your next steps, and ready to create an honest, supportive environment in your setting.

The Benefits

Wellbeing

Explore the links between wellbeing and safeguarding, and ensure both student and your personal wellbeing are taken care of.

Engagement

Create an effective strategy that engages parents and carers in safeguarding so it doesn't stop when school ends.

Consistency

Ensure that you and your team are confident in your reporting and evidencing of concerns, saving time when inspection occurs.

Keynotes

→ Explore the overlap between wellbeing and safeguarding

Consider different strategies and approaches you might have to employ to support the mental health and wellbeing of a student when managing a safeguarding concern.

→ Make your safeguarding review a collaborative process

Ensure psychological safety in your setting by creating a culture in which staff are confident, supported, and honest without fear of reprisal.

→ Learning from child practice reviews

Refresh your knowledge and explore three key learning points from high profile practice reviews that impact practice in your setting.

→ Career planning and succession

Create a recognised career pathway for safeguarding professionals in your setting.

Breakout Sessions

Review processes: putting theory into practice

Develop a successful collaborative review process in your setting with lessons highlighted by a real working case study.

Effective supervision

Support your team to reflect critically on the impact of their decisions, upskilling them and providing long-term benefits for your setting.

Keeping your policy in practice

Take away top tips on implementing a high-quality policy to provide a cornerstone of strong safeguarding.

DSL wellbeing

Equip yourself with tools to ensure your own wellbeing is looked after as a safeguarding professional and take away strategies to protect your team..

Acting on student voice

After data capture, have a clear plan to act on your findings, ensuring that your school community has clear evidence of the process.

Parental engagement strategy

Train staff in maintaining positive engagement strategies with parents and carers, encouraging participation with safeguarding concerns.

Evidence and report harmful sexual behaviour

Understand the protective behaviours process to empower students to report harmful sexual behaviour in schools.

Improve your team structure

Explore how supervision and joint working can improve workload, wellbeing and efficiencies in a growing team.

Safeguarding allegation management against staff and conduct

Explore the KCSIE managing allegations framework, referrals, responsibilities and differing thresholds in safeguarding and disciplinary processes.
