About Optimus Education

We have been producing conferences for schools since 2002. Our events contribute towards teacher professional development and provide networking opportunities for school leaders and businesses.

Our conferences are timely, research-led and cover the latest topics that practitioners need to understand to support staff and pupils. They focus on four key areas:

- teaching and learning
- SEN and safeguarding
- leadership and governance
- school business management.

Over 4,500 delegates attend our events each year and since January 2012, delegates from more than 7,000 separate schools, academies and MATs have attended an Optimus Education conference.

'We attended our first Optimus Education conference at the end of 2018 and could not recommend it enough. The conference was well organised, highly targeted and the Optimus Education staff were always available to help. We had some excellent conversations with delegates and look forward to exhibiting at future conferences.'
