Practical Strategies for Safeguarding in Education

New threats, social media, online grooming, sexting, cyberbullying...

Safeguarding children online is a constant challenge. With the dangers children and young people are exposed to developing continuously, it's vital you stay up-to-date with new trends to ensure you empower your students with knowledge and skills to stay safe online.

Are you confident you can provide your students the skills they need to stay safe online?

Do you understand the new and emerging trends in online safety for 2017/18?

Can you work with parents to tackle cyberbullying?

Our Practical Strategies for Safeguarding in Education conference will provide you with the expert guidance and innovative resources you need to ensure pupils at your school are fully protected.

Why attend this event?

- Online Safety: Get up-to-date on the latest emerging dangers and know how to educate pupils effectively to stay safe online
- Cyberbullying: Know how to manage cases of cyberbullying and protect both staff and students
- Resilience: Learn how to build resilience, confidence and self-esteem to cope with social media pressure

Who should attend?

- DSLs and DCPOs
- Headteachers/Principals
- Deputy/Assistant Heads
- Local Authority Safeguarding Teams

“Engaging, thought provoking – it will enable me to develop our school practice considerably”

This year's speakers include...

Will Gardner

Chief Executive Officer, Childnet

Will Gardner is the CEO of Childnet, a children's charity working with others to help make the internet a great and safe place for children. Will has been at Childnet since 2000 and has been the CEO since 2009. He is a Director of the UK Safer Internet Centre, in which Childnet is a partner alongside two other charities, the Internet Watch Foundation and the South West Grid for Learning, and in this role Childnet organises Safer Internet Day in the UK.

Caroline Hounsell

Director of Business and Partnerships, MHFA UK

Caroline was one of the first Mental Health First Aid England Instructors to be trained and joined the national MHFA England training team in 2007. In 2015 she was appointed into a new role as MHFA England's Director of Partnerships and Business. Caroline runs MHFA Instructor refresher workshops, is a regular speaker at conferences and is an all-round advocate of MHFA.

David Marshall

Headteacher, Cale Green Primary School

With almost 30 years' experience in primary education, David has been headteacher at Cale Green Primary School in Stockport for 17 years. Cale Green is a truly comprehensive school with children coming from a wide range of socio-economic, cultural and faith backgrounds. David has spoken at national conferences on areas such as PSHE and Inclusion. David is also a Local Leader of Education, a Pupil Premium Grant reviewer, a headteacher mentor and has held various roles including that of Chair of the Stockport Excellence Cluster.

Ella Savell-Boss

Safeguarding Manager, Shireland Collegiate Academy

For the past decade, Ella has worked in the ever changing and complex field of safeguarding and is currently the Safeguarding Manager at Shireland Collegiate Academy in the West Midlands. She is also founding Director of Aspirational, Bespoke, Creative Training Ltd where, as of 2014, they have offered bespoke training courses relating to all aspects of safeguarding work and staff development.

Russell Symons

Founder, Impressionable Minds

Russell has been publicly recognised for his ground-breaking work as founder of Impressionable Minds, an extension of his passion for educating young people about crime and working with them to identify and explore associated risk. Key to his success is the drive to divert pupils from school exclusion and further risky behaviours through collaborative interventions developed for pupils to examine, reflect on and challenge their own ideas about crime and anti-social behaviour.

Charlotte Robertson

Co-founded, Digital Awareness UK

With a background in digital marketing, YouTuber and Co-founder of the online safety organisation Digital Awareness UK Charlotte Robertson has represented global brands, and her videos have been viewed and shared by over 100,000 fans. This allows her to thrive in the digital world, but most importantly it helps her to understand and share her insights around how young people are engaging with social media.
