KEY BENEFITS

CULTURE

Develop a whole-school culture built on kindness, empathy and understanding

PARENTS

Work with parents to improve behaviour

CASE STUDIES

Best practice strategies to behaviour management

“The proportion of teachers reporting difficulty in managing pupil behaviour has increased ‘significantly’ since last year”

TES, OCTOBER 2018

The number of teachers struggling with behaviour has increased to 43 per cent in 2018.

With this significant rise, it is essential that all teachers are supported by their senior leadership team to embed effective behaviour management.

Does your school proactively support teachers and promote a positive and consistent approach to improving behaviour?

Optimus Education’s Managing Behaviour in Schools conference is your opportunity to gain practical strategies and guidance for managing behaviour successfully. As well as the latest strategies, discover how to involve all staff in developing a whole-school culture built on kindness, empathy and understanding to support good behaviour.

Why should I attend this event?

- Culture: develop a whole-school culture built on kindness, empathy and understanding to support good behaviour.
- Staff training: share the latest methods on handling behaviour with your staff to create a consistent approach across the school.
- Case studies: hear from other schools who will share their approaches to behaviour management and strategies used to combat poor behaviour.
- Low-level disruptions: learn how to minimise low-level disruptions and keep students on task.

Who should attend?

- Headteachers
- Deputy Headteachers
- Assistant Headteachers
- Behaviour Officers/Specialists
- Heads of Year
- Pastoral Officers
- Inclusion Managers

Optimus Education offers a wealth of expertise to support your whole-school improvement.

Speakers include...

John Rees

Education Consultant (Chair)

John is passionately committed to improving the achievement and life chances of children and young people, through the professional development of individuals and organisations. An independent consultant since 2006, John works with primary, secondary and special schools to improve leadership; teaching and learning; behaviour management; governance and parental engagement, across the UK and overseas.

Liz Bates

Education Advisor, Emotional Health and Wellbeing Lead, School Support Service

Liz taught for over 25 years before becoming an education advisor, specialising in mental and emotional health and wellbeing. Liz has written three books and teaching resource packs for schools and other organisations that work with children. These are used nationally and help children to explore the internal world of their feelings and thoughts.

Sam Coy

Headteacher, Benjamin Adlard Primary School

Initially as Head of School and then as Headteacher, Sam moved the school from special measures to good in 12 months and in 2018 was awarded the Pearson UK Primary School of the Year for making a difference. Sam’s team focuses on helping to create a haven for pupils to flourish in an area of high deprivation, excessive social mobility and high crime rates. ‘It’s not magic, it’s about caring’.

Ollie Frith

Principal Trainer and Head of Training, Pivotal Education

Ollie is a teacher, trainer, facilitator and performer. Following his theatre degree at St Mary’s University, Ollie taught performing arts and drama in secondary schools as well as co-founding a street theatre company, Absolute Characters. Ollie then developed an education company delivering inspiring and motivational workshops for students in primary and secondary schools and in FE colleges.

Stacy Moss

Founding Director, ABC Training

Stacy has worked with children and families for over 20 years in a variety of roles, including as a volunteer, frontline practitioner, line management and in middle management. She is the founding Director of Aspirational, Bespoke, Creative Training Ltd. Stacy has developed and delivers a range of bespoke training packages with a focus on the evolving field of safeguarding. She has recently devised a building resilience programme with a train the trainer option.

Greg Perry

Founder and Lead Consultant, Future Behaviour

Greg has worked with over 400 schools nationwide over the last 10 years, supporting both primary and secondary schools with behaviour management. His simple, research-driven, multi-tiered approach improves behaviour for all, using universal, whole-school approaches, alongside targeted and intensive behaviour interventions.

Christine Raymont-Hall

Principal, Burton Borough School

Christine is a secondary school principal who is passionate about highlighting the importance of mental health and wellbeing in schools and how this focus can impact on behaviour. She has worked in a variety of different schools and settings and using this experience has successfully changed the culture of her current school.
