INCLUSION

Ensure breadth of learning for all

Developing a broad and balanced curriculum that challenges and supports learners is central to the running of any school. Since the new inspection framework and the focus on deep dives into non-core subjects, having a clear vision and design for your school's curriculum is more important than ever.

With keynotes focusing on the updated Ofsted framework and case studies from schools who have been inspected since September 2019, this conference will provide you with practical strategies to use in your own school curriculum. Sessions will focus on the deep dive process, reducing teacher workload, inclusion within the curriculum, and a chance to share best practice with fellow professionals.
