“Enabling every child, from whatever background, not just to learn in the classroom, but also to develop their own interests... finding joy in finding out, with confidence and resilience by forging their own path,”

REFLECTED ANNE LONGFIELD IN HER FINAL SPEECH AS CHILDREN'S COMMISSIONER FOR ENGLAND.

Educators hold a unique opportunity to transform lives and provide children and young people with the experiences to grow their character and independence. Developing a culture that prioritises personal development is key to equipping our primary and secondary students with essential skills and confidence for their next steps.

This interactive, online conference will provide practical tools to help your students cultivate attitudes, skills and behaviours that support their learning and personal development and equip them to thrive as global citizens.

DEVELOPING CHARACTER: create opportunity to grow as adventurous, resilient, and independent individuals

INSPIRING FUTURES: deliver engaging career-related learning which broadens horizons

GLOBAL CITIZENS: develop partnerships and inspire inclusive and sustainable cultures

EQUIPPED FOR NEXT STEPS: ensure confidence and transferable skills for a smooth transition to secondary education and to fulfilling life and work as 21st century adult citizens
