Inclusion in education means ensuring every child, no matter what their individual needs or barriers to learning, has equal access to learning and the same opportunities to achieve.

In this interactive, online conference, we'll examine ways to overcome common barriers to enacting inclusive practice. You'll benefit from practical take-aways to help embed learner-centred, high-quality teaching schoolwide. Gain strategies to boost engagement and participation, and deepen learning opportunities so every individual can thrive and succeed.

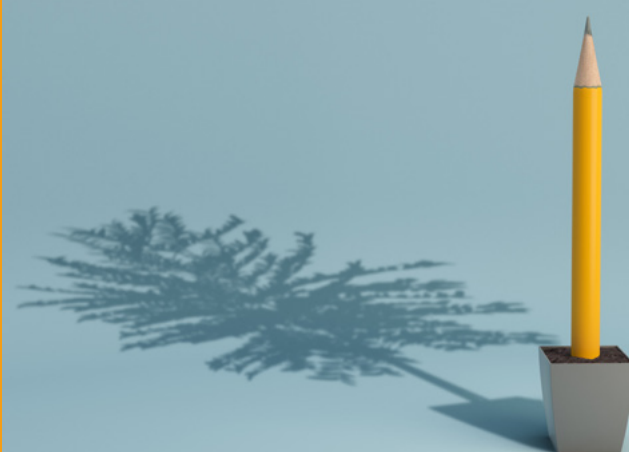

Your conference place gives access to a full set of recordings and resources meaning you can share the learning throughout your setting and access the training at a time that best suits. Join us online live to ask your questions direct and make the most of opportunities to chat with other practitioners committed to furthering their inclusive practice.
