

Terms and conditions for using Optimus conference resources and speaker presentations

Intellectual Property Rights

The contents of this download zip file are protected by copyright, database rights, trademarks and other intellectual property rights. No right to use or license of any such intellectual property rights is granted to you except as explicitly set out in these Conditions:

You may read, print and download the material and information in this download file, but you must reproduce any or all copyright and other notices provided with such materials.

You may not make any profit from the use of that material or information, and you may not make any other copies, or adapt, create any work derived from, republish, make available to the public, disseminate, or transmit any of it, or exploit any of it for any commercial purpose, without first obtaining our written permission.

Accuracy of Information

These resources and speaker presentations have been commissioned and produced to supplement conference attendance. While these resources can be accessed in isolation and without attending the related event, please note that some of the information could be misunderstood out of the context of the day.

We aim to ensure that all presentations are accurate at the date of the event. Each presentation has been dated to minimise the potential of out of date information being shared.

If you find any inaccurate, or incomplete information or if you suspect there is an infringement of intellectual property rights or unlawful acts, please advise us immediately by contacting our customer services department.

Visit my.optimus-education.com/terms-and-conditions for full Optimus Education Terms and Conditions, which also apply to any use of these resources.
